"So it is with Christ's body. We are many parts of one body, and we all belong to each other." (Romans 12:5)

In a post-pandemic world, the idea of "belonging to each other" looks more different than ever before. Connecting and re-connecting with those in our presbytery is one way we can revitalize ourselves and encounter new ideas and support for our ministries. This year's retreat will offer opportunities for worship, service, and connection with those who share your passions and challenges. Come to share ideas, meet new people, and be reminded of God's beauty in the world - and people - around us.
